Dear Mr. Wright,

Dell has forwarded your interesting letter of April 12,

Reloaded ammo was generally available, and the search for the source of what was allegedly used in the assassination ceased when it was clear that the generous quantity available also included soft-nosed bullets.

If you have any shells or live rounds of the various types, I would appreciate samples of each kind, labelled.

I think there is too much at stake to be content with the opinion nothing can be done. I think each of us must try, in whatever way is available to him.

If we want a decent society, we must work and try for it. The least each of us can do is write letters and inform himself. Congressmen sometimes do react to correspondence.

Again, thanks for the information.

Sincerely,

HaroldWeisberg
